SE Space-What is it?

As described here: <http://dc.msvu.ca:8080/xmlui/handle/10587/9> the Social Economy Space exists to promote the widest possible dissemination of intellectual output on the social economy. SE-Space allows high visibility and accessibility for the academics and practitioners who want their research outputs and reports to be widely accessible to a broad public, whether from the community, government, or the academy. An added advantage is that the SE-Space format allows you to retain your rights as an author, ensures preservation and copyright protection, and it is safe and easy to use.

For those seeking information on the social economy, the beauty of the site is that you will find the electronic material you are looking for in its entirety, as opposed to finding references that necessitate further searching.

The SE-Space site is focused on work by persons involved in researching and writing about the social economy. At present, the main focus is on materials produced by, or relevant to, Atlantic Canadians. Much of the work you will find here was produced by the members of the Social Economy and Sustainability Research Network <http://www.msvu.ca/socialeconomyatlantic>, many of whose members continue to submit even though the Social Sciences and Humanities Research grant that financed the network has ended.

Researchers (including practitioners from SE organizations) can submit materials. The submission process is electronic and is easily mastered. This guide will provide you with the tools you need in order to make submissions. From beginning to end, the submission process takes an average of 3 to 6 minutes. Please e-mail seproject@msvu.ca if you would like more information.

Register your Account:

Go to the Social Economy Space Site:

<http://dc.msvu.ca:8080/xmlui/handle/10587/9>

Click “Register” on the right hand menu:

Once you have registered, you will receive two e-mails: one confirming that your account has been created, and another informing you that you have been assigned the appropriate permissions to be able to submit to SE space.

Social Economy Space (SE space)/ l'Espace économie sociale (Espace-ÉS)

The purpose of the Social Economy Space is to promote the widest possible dissemination by collecting and preserving intellectual output written by both academics and practitioners, and ensuring that it has high visibility and accessibility. This site collects digital documents or links directly to such materials. Here you will find a full document and not just a reference to it. If you are interested in a reference and resource guide on Social Economy click here.

You can navigate the website by using the browse and search menus found to your right

The SE-Space site is focused on the works, publications and research by persons involved in researching and writing about matters pertaining to the Social Economy. The main focus is on work authored by or relevant to Atlantic Canadians, though we will gradually expand our coverage of Canadian and international works. We also include links to the other Canadian Social Economy Research Partnerships.

Choosing an email address to register with:

The e-mail address you choose to use will be very important. Every time this e-mail address is used to make a submission, an e-mail confirmation will be sent to that address. If you want to submit using a project e-mail address rather than your personal e-mail, contact roger.gillis@msvu.ca

Cautionary intellectual property: if you are submitting an item not authored by yourself, ensure that you have permission to do so.

Creating a Profile

Part A: Subnode Coordinators:

Once you've requested an account, you will receive an e-mail with a link to complete the remainder of the registration process.

In order to complete your account registration you need to create a profile. When creating your profile, it is important to remember to fill in the fields with the name of your subnode. For example see screen shot below.

Part B: Individuals:

Individuals follow a similar process, but use their own name rather than a subnode designation.

Submitting to SE Space

Once you have received your confirmation e-mails, you are ready to submit to SE space. In order to submit you must login using the account you just created. Go to SE-Space at <http://dc.msvu.ca:8080/xmlui/handle/10587/9> . The “login” option is located on the right-hand menu, in the “My Account” section.

When you login, you will be redirected to the MSVU Digital Commons site. From here, navigate back to the Social Economy space. You do this by clicking on “Communities & Collections”, under the “Browse” menu on the right of your digital commons screen. Scroll down the list of communities until you reach “Social Economy Space (SE space) / Espace économie sociale (Espace-ÉS)”. Click on that name. This will take you back to SE Space.

Once at SE space, scroll down to “Collections in this Community”, select the collection that best suits the item that you are submitting – click on it. In the new screen (example below) click on “submit a new item to this collection.”

All of the collections are listed near the bottom of the SE space home page. The collections reflect the organization of the SES research clusters. In total, there are 8 collections to choose from:

1. About Community University Research Partnerships
2. Communications
3. Community Mobilization and the Social Economy
4. Government Publications
5. Mapping and Portraying
6. Measuring and Financing
7. Policy
8. Other

There are 7 easy steps to the submission process.

In this first step, you can indicate whether or not the material that you are submitting has multiple titles, such as a translated title, and if it has been previously published. If these criteria do not apply to the material that you are submitting, simply proceed to the next step.

Also keep in mind that you can exit a submission at anytime by clicking on the “Save and Exit” option (see bottom of screen above). By clicking “submissions” under the “Admin” menu (see screen below), you can add more information at a later date. It takes an average of 3-6 minutes to complete all of the steps.

First, you fill out the author's name. If the author is an organization, you can put the name of the organization in either the last name or first name fields. You also have the ability to add more than one author if the item you are submitting has more than one author.

You then add the title of the item that you are submitting. The title is one of the only mandatory fields in the submission process. The next few fields are optional. If there is an identifier associated with your item such as an ISSN, ISBN, URL, or DOI, select the identifier from the drop down list and then enter it into the adjacent field. The type of item such as; article, presentation, thesis, etc. can also be selected.

After you complete the fields in this step, click "Next" to proceed.

Please note: if you checked either one of the two boxes in the optional fields (multiple titles, previously published) you may see some additional fields, such as publisher, date of issue, or alternate title.

STEP 3: DESCRIBE YOUR SUBMISSION (Part 2)

Item submission

Initial Questions → Describe → Describe → Upload → Review → License

Describe Item

Subject Keywords: Social economy - Atlant

Enter appropriate subject keywords or phrases below:

Social economy - policy

Description or Abstract:

Social Economy & Sustainability Research Network Atlantic Node. This report is part of the policy scan and Describe your item or enter your abstract if your submission has one.

< Previous Save & Exit Next >

In this next step you have the ability to add subject keywords and an abstract or description to your submission to give those accessing the item a better idea of what the resource is about. The more clearly you are able to describe the item that you are submitting, the greater the chance that researchers will be able to locate your submission. The description or abstract is displayed alongside the item to give those viewing the item an idea of its contents.

Adding keywords:

Keywords are one or two words that capture the essence of the material that you are submitting. Keywords will enable people to find your work better on SE space if people are searching for works on a particular topic. For example, if the item that you are submitting is about Cooperatives in New Brunswick, you can add “New Brunswick” and “Cooperatives” as keywords. Someone who would search the site for “New Brunswick” would then see your article in the search results. You can add as many keywords as you like, but 3 or 4 are recommended. Do not use abbreviations, and please use proper place names when referring to people, places, or organizations. Also, please use the plural version of the word, e.g. “Cooperatives” rather than “Cooperative, when entering keywords. For a list of Social Economy-related keywords, please see here: <http://libguides.msvu.ca/content.php?pid=1830&sid=8767>. Keywords may be added or amended by administrators to aid in the indexing of the item being submitted.

If the abstract, description, or keyword fields do not apply to the item that you are submitting, this step is optional so you can just proceed to the next step.

STEP 4: UPLOADING A FILE (documents in French can be uploaded here)

For the next step, you will upload a file of the item that you are submitting. Most file formats are accepted. You also have the ability to upload multiple files. For example, if you have a number of images to go along with an article, you can add those as well.

There is an option to further describe the file that you are uploading, if you wish to distinguish it from the other files that you are submitting.

The screenshot displays the 'Item submission' process. At the top, a progress bar shows the following steps: Initial Questions, Describe, Describe, Upload (highlighted in green), Review, License, and Complete. Below this, the 'Upload File(s)' section contains a 'File:' field with the path 'N:\Archives\Atlantic Reg' and a 'Browse...' button. A note below the field reads: 'Please enter the full path of the file on your computer corresponding to your item. If you click "Browse...", a new window will allow you to select the file from your computer.' The 'File Description:' field contains the text 'Main article'. A note below the field reads: 'Optionally, provide a brief description of the file, for example "Main article", or "Experiment data readings".' At the bottom of the form, there are three buttons: '< Previous', 'Save & Exit', and 'Next >'. A button labeled 'Upload file & add another' is also present.

STEP 5: REVIEW YOUR SUBMISSION

For this step you review what you entered in the previous steps. At any time, you can go back and correct the information that you have entered by clicking “Correct one of these”. If you do go back and correct any of the information that you entered, you will be taken backwards in the submission process. Just click “Next” to proceed through all of the submission steps until you return to the “Review” step. Once you have completed your review, move on to the next step, Licence.

The screenshot shows a web interface for item submission. At the top, a progress bar displays the following steps: Initial Questions, Describe, Describe, Upload, Review, and License. Below this, a 'Creative Commons License' section contains a paragraph of text explaining the purpose of the license selection. A button labeled 'Proceed to Creative Commons website to select a license' is positioned below the text. Underneath, a 'License:' label is followed by the text 'no creative commons license selected'. At the bottom of the interface, there are three navigation buttons: '< Previous', 'Save & Exit', and 'Next >'.
